

We 【Sirius Therapeutics (U.S) Limited】 respect your privacy concerns and value your relations with us. This Privacy Policy is intended to explain in detail the types of your personal information we will collect, how we will use the information, how we will share the information and your options of how we will use the information. We will also explain our information security measures and how you can contact us about our privacy policy.

Cookies

Like many other websites, we use cookies to track your visit to our website and your use of our services. Cookies are small text files transmitted by your web browser and stored by it on your computer or mobile device. Cookies can help us improve our website and services, and enable us to provide more targeted services by estimating the number of users and how they will use our services. Cookies can also save the information about your preferences, increase your search speed, and recognize you when you return to our website or return to use our services. Most web browsers accept cookies automatically. If you want to prevent your computer from accepting our cookies, you can follow the steps of your web browser to set it that way. But please note that if you disable your browser's cookies, you may not be able to access some sections of our website.

IP addresses

An IP address is the digital address of a computer, which can be used to locate the computer on the web. We may record your IP address when you visit our website or use the services or features on our website. We may use your IP address for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy, for diagnosing our server, or for managing our website.

I. How We Will Share and Make Public Your Personal Information

We will make public your personal information or disclose it to a third party only under the following circumstances:

- when we must provide your personal information as required by laws or regulations, or under the mandatory requirements of administrative enforcement or judicial actions;
- when we disclose your personal information designated by you, at your request, and in a way explicitly approved by you.

II. Your Rights

According to relevant laws and regulations, we will take appropriate technical measures to ensure your right to access your personal information, your right to change your personal information, your right to remove your personal information, your right to obtain a copy of your personal information, and your right to withdraw your consent. You can contact us at any time via the ways provided in "Contact Us" below.

For security reasons, you may need to submit a written request or prove your identity in other ways. We may ask you to verify your identity first before processing your request. We will give you a reply within 15 days. If you are not satisfied with the reply, you can also make a complaint to us via the ways provided in "Contact Us".

We will not be able to respond to your request under the following circumstances:

- circumstances related to the fulfillment of our legal obligations;
- circumstances directly related to national security or national defense security;
- circumstances directly related to public security, public health, or major public interests;
- circumstances directly related to criminal investigations, prosecutions, trials, or the execution of court rulings;
- circumstances where there is sufficient evidence to prove that you are ill-minded or abusing your rights;
- circumstances where we can't respond to your request for the sake of protecting your or other individuals' lives or properties or major legitimate rights and interests, but it is very difficult for us to get your consent for this;
- circumstances where responding to your request will cause serious damages to the legitimate rights and interests of yours or other individuals or organizations;
- circumstances involving business secrets.

III. Changes to This Policy

This Privacy Policy will become effective on Sept 16, 2025.

This Privacy Policy may be updated from time to time, to reflect the changes in our services as well as relevant laws and regulations. We may release information or send notifications, to inform you of any major changes to the Privacy Policy, and indicate when the latest update was made at the top of the Privacy Policy.
